Relias Healthcare Expands Into Tennessee and Begins Partnership with Big South Fork Medical Center

Relias Healthcare is excited to announce that it will begin its partnership with Big South Fork Medical Center by providing hospitalist medicine services for the health facility. Big South Fork Medical Center is a 25-bed hospital in Oneida, TN serving the community and the surrounding areas in Northeast Tennessee.

"This partnership with Relias Healthcare will allow us to provide the highest quality of care to our patients in their time of need," said Hal Leftwich, CEO of Big South Fork Medical Center. "We are excited to work with such a highly regarded medicine group to ensure that our patients receive the best possible care."

Additionally, Relias will also offer telehealth hospitalist services to Big South Fork. As the need for efficient and quality healthcare arises in rural communities, Relias has found a way to meet patients where they are by using telehealth technology.

"One of the issues we continue to see throughout the Southeast is the sustainability of inpatient programs. We are excited to work with BSF Medical Center to create a sustainable and consistent staffing model that provides high quality care to patients and families. Working with providers who live in Oneida, we are eager to demonstrate our commitment to cultivating environments where clinicians flourish," said Dr. Sumner Abraham, Relias Healthcare's Chief Medical Operating Officer.
